

AROUND THE COMMONWEALTH BY

AEROPLANE

A Highly Interesting
and Educational
GAME

- London to Melbourne 11055 Miles
- London to Sydney 11632 Miles
- Colombo to Fremantle 3190 Miles
- Fremantle to Adelaide 1353 Miles
- Cape Town to Melbourne 5814 Miles
- Cape Town to Hobart 5838 Miles
- Fremantle to Adelaide 1353 Miles
- Adelaide to Melbourne 500 Miles
- Melbourne to Sydney 571 Miles
- Sydney to Brisbane 510 Miles

Around the Commonwealth by Aeroplane

2 to 4 players

OBJECT

To be the first player to race around Australia by aeroplane and return to the capital city from which you started

SETUP

Each player chooses a playing piece and places it on a federal capital city, marked by a red square.

GAME PLAY

Each player rolls the dice. The player with the highest number starts the play.

Roll the dice and move clockwise around Australia.

- > If you land on a federal capital city, you get an extra roll.
- > If you land on a town, marked by a large circle, you lose a turn.
- > If you land on an already occupied space you don't move, and lose that turn.

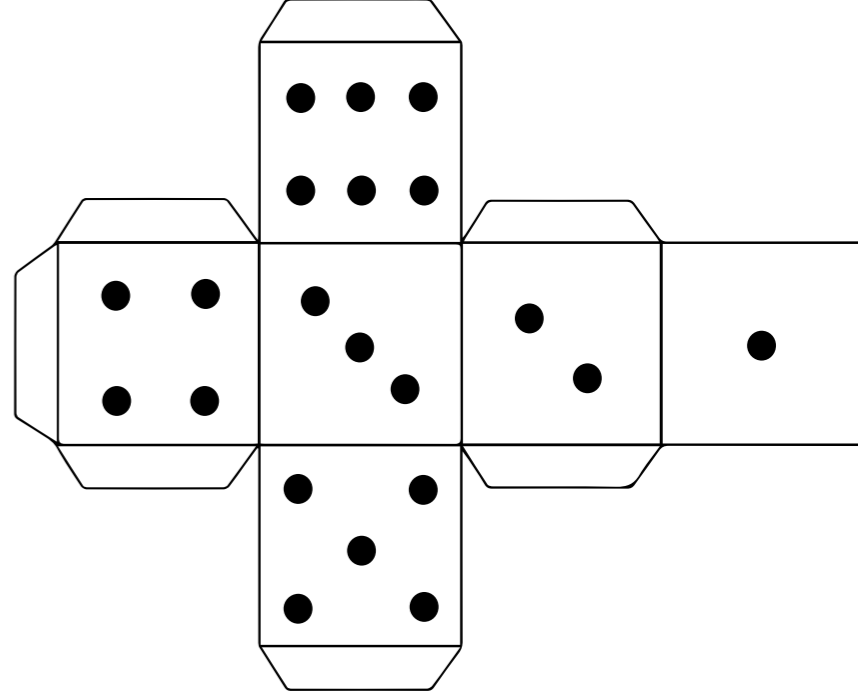

The first player to return to their starting city with an exact roll, wins the game.

Want to find out more about this game? Visit digital.collections.slsa.sa.gov.au
State Library of South Australia: Children's Literature Research collection,
Around the Commonwealth by aeroplane [game], c1910, Games box 18.

Equipment

- 1 x dice
- 4 x playing pieces

Background History

Aboriginal people lived on the Australian continent for 50,000 years. In 1788 the first fleet of people from Britain arrived. Over time Australia became divided into six very separate colonies that reported to Britain. In 1901 these colonies were united under the name of the Commonwealth of Australia and became a federation. At this time in history, aeroplanes were new and had to make many stops to refuel.

Around the Commonwealth by Aeroplane was created in the early 1900's by the National Game Company of Ballarat and Melbourne. They were the first big company to make board games in Australia.

Look closely at the map. Notice information that has changed or stayed the same.